Deftones, Moana

Somehow calm as she walks on stage Her entire empire becomes your taste...your taste...show me...come Let me know what you're like...let me...know what you're like... What's your taste?

I bet she carves your heart when she walks onstage Her empire slowly becomes your place... your place...show me...come on Let me know what you're like...let me...know what you're like... In your place... your place...

Somehow calm as she walks offstage

An entire empire recall your face...your face...show me...come Let me know what you're like...let me... know what you're like... Your face...your face...