

Delta Goodrem, Four Short Words

I woke up this morning
And my world turn away
An emptiness
You've gone away

Explained it all
In four short words
I can't take anymore
And our lives were turned

In spite of it all
I couldn't explain
How it got so bad
How I caused this pain

And when I close my eyes
I hear the voice that I
Have been missing so long
And when you said goodbye
You know I'd try to hold you
Once again

Those words were true
You were right all along
I understand
Now that you're gone

I hope this time
I'm not too late
Cause in your hands
You hold our fate

And in your tears
I see the truth
I was so wrong
And I'm missing you

And when I close my eyes
I hear the voice that I
Have been missing so long
And when you said goodbye
You know I'd try to hold you
Once again

All the emptiness inside
It just can't be real
It just can't be real
It can't be real - no, no!
It can't be real

And when I close my eyes
I hear the voice that I
Have been missing so long
And when you said goodbye
You know I'd try to hold you
Once again
