

Demis Roussos, The Promise

The promise that I never asked for
Yet somehow I long for was my only possession
A shelter and changing through fire and rain

A reason to go on and live for
Never took the game for and afraid of the seasons

The lost dream that found me
And I loved again
An hour, do I go from here

I love you forever
You meant it when you said it
I love you, I still do
What will I do without you?

It can't be, just simply can't be
You and I can't take it we've been [through] of moments

Tomorrow will guide us
Tomorrow will show I love you forever
You meant it I know
An hour, do I go from here
[interlude]

I love you, I still do
What will I do without you?

It can't be, just simply can't be
You and I can't take it we've been [through] of moments
Tomorrow will guide us
Tomorrow will show
I love you forever
You meant it I know

The promise, the promise