Denis Leary, Death

I'm sick and tired of my generation getting blamed for the state of the planet. I'm sick of my generated Ted Kennedy. Good senator, but a bad date. You know what I'm saying, folks? One of those guys we Because I'll tell you folks. We got a real problem with guns in this country. We have people snapping And I am sick and tired for New York taking the blame in this country for the crime problem. You know Yeah, I love living in New York, man, and people who live in New York, we wear that fact like a bac (music begins in background)

Because every moment in New York could be your last. Oh yeah, yeah. You... could be walking do New York teaches you to live life moment to moment and street by street and beat to beat. Because Because most people think, "Life sucks, and then you die." I disagree. I think life sucks, Because I think Jim Henson said it best when he said, "Anybody got any aspirin? I think I got
