

Destiny's Child, My Time Has Come

[Verse 1 Beyonce:]

Its too far

Its too fast

Its to quick

It wont last

Its not right, but it's not wrong

Theres no time, move along

But I've come much too far, and I know whats in my heart

And I know, what I feel

I can tell when it is real

It's ok, be afraid

Its alright

You just take that fear, turn it in to your strength

It's called life, and thats why we're here

Now I've come much too far, and I know whats in me heart

And I know what I feel, and this time I know its real

My time has come

And like the road below me

I know I'll touch the sky above

A million footprints surround me

Tell me it can be done, my time has come

Now I've come much too far, and I know whats in my heart

And I know, what I feel

And this time I know its real I know that I just gotta keep movin on, I know whats in my heart

My time has come

[Repeat until end]
