

Diana Ah Naid, Master Plan

You've got to understand I don't have some kind of master plan
I've got some ideas and a little attitude,
I don't have that much upon you
You say I'm hard to deal with,
I don't think you try, I'm not that hard to satisfy
You say that I have changed but it's a lie
I am just busy getting by
So what, so what's it got to do with you
So what, I don't mean to be rude
So what, so what's it got to do with you
I accept your criticism, you take all that you give
I respect your cynicism, you take it all out on me
And it's funny what you say, that noone takes you serious anyway
And it's funny, for all your friends,
Why are you the only one not laughing
So what, so what's it to you
So what, I don't mean to be rude
So what, so what's it to you
So what, I don't mean to be rude
So what, so what's it to you
So what, I don't mean to be rude
But so what, so what's it to you
You've got to understand I don't have no master plan
I've still no great ideas or anything
Besides I am just busy getting by
