

Diana Ross, I Wouldn't Change The Man He Is

(Nickolas Ashford/Valerie Simpson)

I've got a funny kind of guy
Nobody knows him
Any better than I

Says without me
He can get along
But I know that's just a man's way
Of saying he's strong

But I wouldn't change him no
Oh I wouldn't change his funny ways
'Cause he's the cause of my sunny days
And though sometimes he brings me little tears
Still love the man he is

If I do something to please him
He never gives me credit
If I think he'll bring me candy and roses
Huh, I might as well forget it

He's the kind of a man
Who likes his privacy
And when a mood hits him
I know when to let him be

But I wouldn't change him no
I wouldn't change his funny, funny ways
'Cause he's the cause of my sunny days
And though sometimes he brings me little tears
Still love the man he is

Sometimes when he hurts me so bad
I think I've got migraine in the head
All he has to do is touch me
Tears disappear
I'll forgive him in a minute

I have to pretend
There ain't much I know
He's the kind of a man
Who likes to run the show

But I wouldn't change him, no
I wouldn't change his funny ways
'Cause he's the cause of my sunny days
Though sometimes he brings me little tears
Still love the man he is
Oh I love that man
I wouldn't change his funny ways
And I wouldn't change the man he is..
