

Dianne Reeves, When Morning Comes (Jasmine)

Love me in a place between awake and dreaming
Whisper in your heart if words won't do
I'll be here when morning comes
'Til worlds fall down
until you know you're loved

Hold me to the flame as worlds are disappearing
Open every door we're falling through
I'll be here when morning comes
'Til worlds fall down
Until you know you're loved

Let me be the shade that finds you softly sleeping
Breezes blow a kiss from soul to soul
I'll be here when morning comes
'Til worlds fall down
Until you know you're loved
