

Diary Of Dreams, The Darkest Of All Hours

I read the words you send me Addicted to the joy of someone's caring
I cannot help it but hunger still for more
How beautiful to lean back and smile out to the world

Make peace, Mr. Conscience says to me i take a moment and figure out the spell
I let go of all my doubts and open up my heart Come in and conquer what you find be sure that i don't mind

So here I am, all the shadows did return Release me, from this room that I call home
And bring light, into the darkest of all hours
And guide me back, into the holy ground of life

Yes i know it is difficult to find some answers to enter and see my secret world Be patient and feel trusted in return Be gentle with this heart of mine, it is still torn in pieces