

Dickey Lee, My Blue Tears

Fly ye away from my window little bluebird fly ye as far as you can away from here
And let not your song fall upon my ear
Go spread your blue wings and I'll shed my blue tears
For the one that I have loved she has left me and gone
And I'm in no mood for to hear your sad song hum hum
Bring not your light into my dark blue yellow sunshine
Waste not your warmth on the coldness in here
Oh trouble me not go ye elsewhere
Go light your blue sky and I'll shed my blue tears away
For the only one that I have ever loved has gone
And I'm in no mood for the sunshine today hum hum
Go spread your blue wings go light your blue sky and I'll shed not a tear hum hum
