

Dickies, Attack Of The Molemen

in the land of atlantis where the sun don't shine it gets darker down there every day that's when two explorers fell into a mine and that's the price they have to pay they carry their clubs upon their back mole man mole man they climb up on ground and then attack beware of the head moleman jack they're the slavery labour of the underground their masters make them suffer and work if you listen you're sure to hear the terrible sound of mole men crawling out of the dirt
