Die Krupps, Fatherland

I see houses burning I'm ashamed Before you close your eyes denyingly You better ask yourself

Did I choose something I could regret Did I do something I should regret

Is this the place I used to call -Fatherland Is this the place I used to know -As fatherland

The silence is illusion Stay awake I hear children crying in fear and pain Do cowards ask themselves?