

Diesel, The Sleeping Giant

Don't mind apologizing
Raise your head, take my hand and say
I'll drown mine
No place for preconceptions
It's your turn now do please just say
I'll drown mine

I can't find a way alone
But I won't die away, my son

I see you as one of mine
Took you in when every one else
Old you lies
Just take your hands off your ears
Tell me would you rather be close or always right?

I can't find a way alone
But I won't die away, my son

You just have to let me in
I have killed my fear so now say
I'll drown mine
You are the sleeping giant
Drop the blade, change your destiny
I've drawn mine

I can't find a way alone
I won't die, you are my son
