Digitalism, Anything New

Everything is anything new
The future is a thing that's a danger to you
Even the minimum is maximum
Gold will never become platinum
I don't get what's up with you
Is it the way that you don't move?
Got to get your ass up in a way that the others can't copy too

The future isn't part of your identity Never will it be fine Rather will it be your personality that will have to re-define Everything is anything new Everything is anything new Anything new is anything new (repeat)
