Dimentia, Intruder

-Solo-

Inside, I feel this cancer growing
Fearful, out of control, it soars
Hanging from the strings of the puppeteer
You will do what I want you to

There's nothing wrong inside my self
No one will break in my head
Then the blood flows from my nose
And my legs start to walk alone

I woke up this morning
The flashing lights
Bring me back to reality
I don't now where I am
Turning around
I see this girl in bed
Who is she? Is she dead?!

There's nothing wrong inside my self
No one will break in my head
Then the blood flows from my nose
And my legs start to walk alone

Intruder in my head
Blackened down to my core
A prisoner of this eternal hell

-Solo-

Give me my soul, go away
Stop manipulating me
You destroy my life!

-Solo-

There's nothing wrong inside my self
No one will break in my head
Then the blood flows from my nose
Suffering, now I strive to survive
