

Dina Carroll, Don't Let Me Be The One

What's that you're saying baby
Did you say you don't love me
Oh I've tried, how I've tried, yes I've tried
To get through to you
But you give me no reason now
To love you like I do
But I won't be the one
To let you go, no no

Is that what you're saying baby
That you're leaving me now
Oh I've cried, how I've cried, yes I've cried
Not knowing what to do
But you give me no reason now
To love you like I do
But I won't be the one
To let you go, oh no
I said I won't be the one
To let you go

What gives you the right
To treat me like you do
When all I ever wanted
Was a little love from you
Well maybe it's time
That I just let you go
Well I've tried, yes I've tried
But my heart still says no

Is that what you're saying baby
That we're finally at the end
Well I've tried, how I've tried, yes I've tried
But I still don't understand
Why you give me no reason now
To love you like I do
So don't let me be the one
To let you go, oh no
Just don't let me be the one
To let you go, oh no
Just don't let me be the one
To let you go
