</lyrics>

-To you who floated on the azure sea-
You shut your eyes from living
The life you slowly exhaled is white Nobody touches the frozen heart

-To you wished on the azure sea-
You who remain weak, you are to as you are Sound to you? My rusty voice
I can't put into words, I want to be touching on now

Tomorrow

Can't see anymore, deeper than deep sea, so deep, deeply deeply tomorrow is sleeping

deep blue

Because it was too painful that I can't forget

deep blue

I wonder what you tell me with what kind of voice and what kind of words

-Tears are blended into the azure sea-

Nobody notices even the meaning of my crying

Feel the life that never can be saved

Just for now, please live

Can't see anymore, deeper than deep sea, so deep, deeply deeply you are sleeping

deep blue

The days that I was too used to be wounded before I realised it

deep blue

I'll go to pay tribute to you the bouquet of flowers in that season when the winter sleeps
