I began to change from the day when I began to love
I just want to look at you
You always lingered lonely in that garden and was looking at falling flowers only

Unreachable wish sadly hurt my heart

Only the reality that closed in front of me has been afflicting me like only stifling air doesn't forget current me

GARDEN I wished that I can meet someday, always
GARDEN Forever in this passing season... you

Sad withering flower saw thousands of nights
Your figure that is projected in sepia colour

I want to forget, I don't want to forget
I who pinned down the contradicted feeling stood motionless there alone
Though only snow lonely coloured the scenery
Not to forget now and ever

GARDEN I wished that I can meet someday, always
GARDEN Forever in this passing season... you

I want to forget, I don't want to forget
I who pinned down the contradicted feeling stood motionless there alone
As the time passes fast not to forget the memories that is disappearing from the reality

GARDEN I wished that I can meet someday, always
GARDEN Forever in this passing season... you

I become unable to see you as leave you in my heart
