

Disturbed, Torn

I learned how to fall today
Didn't think it would kill you
To settle the debt I
Thought never would be paid

Found out I was wrong today
Too weak to continue
One final defense to fall
Still unbroken, now I am torn

Thought it was over this time
And we know
There's still a fire inside
And we know, and we know
We're gonna let it burn
Let it burn, 'til the
Image fades away

Knew there was a price to pay
Didn't think it would thrill you
To witness the fallen one
Shattered and ashamed

No, I'm not the only one
Yearning to fulfill you
Unwilling to risk it all
Still uncertain, now I am torn

Thought it was over this time
And we know
There's still a fire inside
And we know, and we know
We're gonna let it burn
Let it burn, 'til the
Image fades away

Now I am torn
Thought it was over this time
And we know, and we know

That I am torn
Thought it was over this time
And we know
There's still a fire inside
And we know, and we know
We're gonna let it burn
Let it burn, 'til the
Image fades away
