

Diva Destruction, Snake

I see you looking back at me, snake eyes
How dare you glare at me, snake eyes
Why is it I stand here while the pain reigns down
Why is it you're kneeling there
With your face to the ground
Could it be our eyes cannot see the same way
Could it be our hearts are still in yesterday
How dare you tempt, how dare you try, snake eyes
So I see as I turn, the mask fall from your face
So now I know
What seemed real was a false disgrace
Could it be you only live the lies you make
Could it be you only live the truth of your fate
