

DJ Shah, Ocean Drive

I thought of all the things I could of seen
Or should of been,
While I was watching the days go by Letting myself be
A secret wish no claim
What will be will be
And I give you on my way
Breathing you to me
An ocean drive
Though there's a quiet moon
That keeps you going
Through the desert dune
A sheltered night
You are here with me
We could be driving
Till eternity
Changing my every thought and mood
A different face
While the echo sings a velvet tune
Rising high on you
A secret wish no claim
What will be will be
And I give you on my way
Breathing you to me
An ocean drive
Though there's a quiet moon
That keeps you going
Through the desert dune
A sheltered night
You are here with me
We could be driving
Till eternity
An ocean drive
Though there's a quiet moon
That keeps you going
Through the desert dune
A sheltered night
You are here with me
We could be driving
Till eternity..
