

Dntel, The Distance

when we sat in evenings counting up the seconds between the thunder and the lightning trying to find the distance the space between what we feel and what we see like the distance coming between you and me

so don't be long
don't be long

all we murder and confetti our science in the holy ghost the space between is spread and getting strong distance only grows so don't be long

so don't be long
don't be long