

Do As Infinity, Break Of Dawn

Gathered around a fire, on the beach
one night in June yeah
Talking o' future past and love affairs

Under moonlight, drinking beer
Waiting for sunlight, drinking beer

As fire turned to ashes a man came asking for directions yeah
He wanted to know the way to promise land

No one knew the way, to the bright side
No one knew the way, to the right side Accidentally pointed one way, towards horizon
And he started walking slowly down the shoreline

Ooh break of dawn, we were wandering aimless in the darkness Ooh break of dawn, we were roaming wasted in the grayness Ended up the right place? No one knows

Gathered around a fire, on the beach
one night in June yeah
Talking o' future past and love affairs

Under moonlight, drinking beer
Waiting for sunlight, drinking beer
Did we take the right way? Drinking beer
It happened break of dawn, drinking beer
