

Dogfight, Wasted

you'll be alright once you drink tonight you'll never need anything. trust me and dont dry your eyes; just cry all night cause you're so wasted

keep counting your blessings like they tell you too. Keep drinking. forgetting the problems facing you your grieving, its not helping the way you want it to. keep drinking. its solving everything for you.

you will find its not your only choice you'll be fine once your wasted.
