

Dogstar, Slipping Down

I worked on it for a while until I saw that it was goin' nowhere I gathered it into a pile and put it with the rest of the things

That didn't work
that let me down
that drove my heart
into the ground
that tore me up
that made me cry
with no regrets I ask

Have you no pride to stay straight you've become everything that you hate
in our little world
you're slipping down
grab my hand and I'll pull you out

I'm trying to live a life that cuts me like a knife that's dull
I wrapped myself up tight and stored it with

that didn't work that let me down
that drove my heart
that tore me up
that made me cry
with no regrets I ask

that you hate
in our little world
grab my hand and
I'll pull you out

Have you no love to stay straight you've become everything you hate
in our little world
grab my hand and I'll pull you out
