

Dogwood, Nothing New

Ahh

Give me time to watch this go
I will pack all of my dreams
And I'll go home

Ahh

Once again I'm nothing new
Quick to speak, slow to listen
And quick to lose

I'm fine

Just lies to keep you from the truth
Fit in, belong, what's wrong?
Is there something I can do?
There is, my friend
Please help me this through

I still don't know why You forgive
I guess there's hope, the reason I still live
And when they hear this song they'll right it off because of faith
But because of things I do or say

I'm fine

Just lies to keep you from the truth
Fit in, belong, what's wrong?
Is there something I can do?
There is, my friend, these words will stick like glue {Like glue}

Lord take my life

'cause it's better off with You
I slip, I fall
By now it's nothing new.

Lord help me see

'cause You've got a better view
Take what's left
And make it something new

Make it something new

Just because I never learned to give up
Challenge my beliefs, I'll choose to stand up
Overcoming fears, compromising never
'til the very end we will be together

Just because I never learned to give up
Challenge my beliefs, I'll choose to stand up
Overcoming fears, compromising never
'til the very end we will be together

Just because I never learned to give up
Challenge my beliefs, I'll choose to stand up
Overcoming fears, compromising never
'til the very end we will be together

Just because I never learned to give up
Challenge my beliefs, I'll choose to stand up
Overcoming fears, compromising never
'til the very end we will be together