

Dolly Parton, If I Cross Your Mind

If I cross your mind please let me cross it slowly
Let me stop and reminisce with you for a while
And if I cross your mind please remember all the good things
Think of me as happiness if I cross your mind
There must be a million thoughts rushing through your mind
And if there's one of me love among them that you find
Please stop for just a little while and treat it extra kind
When you think of me love if I cross your mind
If you must hide my mem'ry when you're with someone else
Then make mine very special when you're by yourself
But only in a memory can one turn back the time
To lovely tender moments that linger in my mind
There must be a million thoughts...
Think of only good things if I cross your mind
