

Don Gibson, Anything New Gets Old (Except My

Anything new gets old except my love for you it goes on and on it's forever true
I'll forever love you oh my whole life through
Anything new gets old except my love for you

Anything new gets old except the way you smile
The tenderness of every kiss and those pretty blue eyes
I'll forever love you there'll be no one new
Anything new gets old except my love for you

You're the only good thing to me goodbye to the blues and misery
No more lonely nights being so blue no more lonely hours without you
Anything new gets old...
