

Don Gibson, Final Examination

FINAL EXAMINATION
WITH DOTTIE WEST
(Red Lane - Dottie West)

You reset with the love that has built to stand on its own
Somewhere we surely went wrong
So let's study our hearts we may learn we might change our minds
A final examination to test our situation may find love is not really gone
We've been countin' our sorrows and forgettin' all the good times we had
And somewhere love left us alone
So let's count on each other and together we might make the grade
A final examination to test our situation may find love is not really gone
We've been countin' our sorrows...
