

Don't Look Down, On My Own

I think its selfish to want this as much as I do
I cant stop myself from driving on and making it through Mom and dad understand things will work out in the end
But now I should go because time is something I can not bend

(Chorus)

I'm on my own it feels like the first time that I let you go
I'm on my own nothings gonna stop me I just thought you should know

21 still so young when will I really begin stop flailing start caring getting up and fighting to win you cant be against me when will you listen to me and open your eyes and see me for what I want to be

I'm on my own it feels like the first time that I let you go
I'm on my own nothings gonna stop me I wanted you to know that I could have made it better if i'd tried

I would have made it better if i'd tried LETS GO!

I'm on my own it feels like the first time that I let you go
I'm on my own nothings gonna stop me I just thought you should know
