Don Williams, Miracles

Miracles, miracles, that's what life's about Most of you must agree if you've thought it out I can see and I can hear, I can tell you why I can think and I can feel, I can even cry I can walk, I can run, I can swim the sea We had made a baby son and he looks like me Miracles, miracles that's what life's about Most of you must agree if you've thought it out Well who is rich and who is poor, who has more than me Why I have quite enough to eat, And my mind is free Miracles, miracles that's what life's about I found you and you found me, we are not without We are not without We are not without and I'm happy We are not without We are not without and I'm so happy We are not without