Don Williams, Reason To Be

First I was love, then I came to be I had a heart inside of me And though my heart was working I found Still there was something it had not found.

So I went away hoping to see Maybe I'd find what's missing in me Knowing so well but not knowing why If I didn't find this something I'd die.

And then I came to where I had been I knew the first was still not the end What I had left was not what I found Because there was you, because there I found.

First I was love, then I came to be I had a heart inside of me And though my heart is still part of me You give my heart it's reason to be...
