Donna Lewis, Hands

under the red rose under the yellow under the open sky

come here
come to me
come sleep
lie with me
and watch the graceful little greenedged animals enchant you

I could be here with you if only you would free your way through I could be safe with you if only you would free your way through

come

lay your hands on me now lay your words on me now my love lay your words on me now lay your hands on me now my love inside

glistening
this joy of adventure
crystal on crystal
surrounds you it's peaceful oh I wonder if
seven roses later
was a fairy tale

I could be here with you.....
