

Donna Summer, Once Upon A Time (Theme)

Once upon a time, there was a girl she lived in the land of never-never where everything real is unreal and only fairy tales come true something like me and you

But she believed that what she dreamed of could be real so she strived on to make it come true fighting odds, not knowing what would come of her never giving up the hope within her

She carried on and on, because she believed that once, once in a time in her lifetime the things so unreal would be real

And in the morning, one day when she awoke to find herself surrounded by the same old room she was disappointed

So she dreamed and she dreamed and she dreamed and she dreamed and she dreamed and she said that fairy tales do come true 'cause I believe, I believe

And she kept trying, and she kept right on fighting till one day she met a man who held her tight and she fell in love

Once upon a time, in the land of never-never where all things real are unreal there lived a girl who believed that all things could be possible

And one day she did awake and found herself somewhere else beside her a brand new face of someone that she loved
