

Doomshine, Light A Candle For Me

don't be late to sleep the day away twist of fate, a perfect dream can fade each day wake up, it's time time to toe the line stand out of breath in icy darkish halls whichever strength will end my fall roam discarnate in search of curing warmth the loss of thoughts, the loss of all carry the brightest flame if you light a candle for me to point my darkest pain is this hell a loner to be ?

on my own deprived of the power of speech haunt my soul (re)light a candle for me confused and destitute stare into space this life goes on ?! of what avail ?

I feel your crying fits on sunny days most tears are cried to wipe away
