

Dottie West, No Sign Of Living

No sign of living no sign of the dead there's someone existing in this house instead
No flowers are blooming no children to cry no fire is burning no tears fill the eyes
There's someone existing from twilight till dawn
There's someone who's missing someone all day long
Well which someone who's giving up all hope and faith
There's no sign of living in my house today
There's no sign of living in my house today
