

Down By Law, Dreams Away

dream away
you're just a dreamer boy and I've been here before
dream away
you're dreaming your life away it's what they want you to believe salute the flag, say the pledge that's what they say it seems to me like there's so much more taking it to the wall it seems to me there's more than what they say hold your head up

target their world
just let em fly
dreams away
now, no matter how I try I just can't walk away it seems it's inside me and it will stay so whenever you get down just think of all the things we've done then you know that we can take it you know it's just begun
hold your head up
target their world
just let em fly
dreams away