

Downhere, Surrender

I'm in a constant freefall
When I'm following You
Can't see the next step's footing
But I know that You do
And life is all just a bunch of work
Nothing more than a climbing fall

Till I surrender, surrender, surrender
All these things to You
All my life to You, to You

I was a meteor burning
With a need for Your rescue
And it's the safest kind of falling
Now that I'm falling into You
And it's true I still don't have control
'Cause You've got it all along

So I surrender, surrender, surrender
All these things to You
All my life to You
All my dreams to You
I keep falling in surrender

I end where You begin
Lose it all to win
A constant realign
Beneath Your love divine
In this fall without a bottom
The deeper my surrender
The higher we will rise

Surrender
All these things to You
All my life to You

Surrender, surrender, surrender
All these things to You
All my life to You
All my dreams to You
I keep falling in surrender to You
