

Dragonforce, Inside The Winter Storm

Strangers they come, with the rise of the sun
To escape from this madness, forever!
Rivers run dry, ripping holes in the sky,
As the empire is fading away

Silently march now, where the lost souls run wild
In a time, long forgotten, forever.
Pain brings us sadness at the dawn of the world,
But this nightmare will still carry on

Through the day we'll find a way, we're lost beneath the stars,
Faceless they fall now and we all stand as one
Long wasted tears, but a light forever shining,
One stand, one last demand to end it all

Outside the World in the Fallen Land,
Turn away from our despair.
We stand alone in a silent dream, lost within eternity...
Whoah!
Whoah!
Rise again and try to understand

A light for the world will save us tonight
Redemption still so far away,
Marching on inside of our loneliness,
Still searching for all that remains.

And time will pass me by, but I'm not so far away.
We're the sons of the land,
Our lifeblood runs into the ocean...
Tomorrow we're gone, our souls rising up to the sun...!

A light for the world will save us tonight
Redemption still so far away,
Marching on inside of our loneliness
Still searching for all that remains...
It's just one wasted man, in one wasted land
Suffering, still burning, so alive.
It's just one wasted man, in one wasted land...
Until the end of time...
Inside the Winter Storm!
