

Dreaminfusion, Take Me

Breaking down the wall
Of shiny dream your wicked eyes tell me
About your little world
Like a fading voice screaming in silence.

Take me, take me

Above this selfish game
Of easy play but ephemeral flowers
Of eternal youth and chemical faith
But wonderful goodness.

Take me, take me

Say you'll be there to play for life
In this senseless game of time
Light my way stay alive
Love will make us stronger.

Say you'll be there to play for life
Give me something to survive
Light my way stay alive
Love will make us stronger.
Bring me back a touch
Of tenderness for my kingdom of madness
Bring me back a heart
A soft delight to cages of hatred.
