

Dropkick Murphys, Devils Brigade

You've got no one to defend you; you're out on you're own.
Still fighting on the corner, you can never go home.
In this world of temptation, in this city of sin,
There's nothing that can save you but a strength from within.

Because they'll do it again and they've done it before,
The Devil's Brigade.
Headed down a dead end road with the Devil's Brigade,
You're being led astray.

1,2,3,4.

This crew will not rest until your life's in the piss,
Stop and think of your future, the chances you'll miss.
Looking back on a resume of corruption and crime,
'Cause you wasted your youth, taken down in your prime.

Because they'll do it again and they've done it before,
The Devil's Brigade.
Headed down a dead end road with the Devil's Brigade,
You're being led astray.

1,2,3,4.

Dying to belong though it's tearing you apart.
A bullet to the head and a knife to the heart
Are the tools of the trade in this cold life of crime.
A smart, decent kid who has now lost his mind.

Because they'll do it again and they've done it before,
The Devil's Brigade.
Headed down a dead end road with the Devil's Brigade,
You're being led astray.
