

Drowning Pool, Reason I'm Alive whatever happened to till death do us part together forever slowly severed us apart you know

dreams are just like lies
dreams are just like lies
when you walk away
I never want to feel again as the blackness settles in I only have one thing left to say

you're the reason that i'm alive kiss that knife cause you just wont die
you're the reason that i'm alive
to leave you here as you watch me die away as you watch me die away watch me die away whatever happened to the lies that I believe wasn't it you that said that the truth will set us free You know dreams are just like lies

never even had a chance as the sadness drifts away
to say

kiss that knife cause you just wont die
you're the reason that i'm alive
to leave you here as you watch me die away

you watch me die away

rising up on a broken bridge when i'm talking back does that make sense well I hope you take this, take this as you want

you're the reason that i'm alive
kiss that knife cause you just wont die
you're the reason that i'm alive to leave you here as you watch me fly away as you watch me fly away
