

Drugstore, Get Inside My Head

Can you see the shimmer
Of the rings on my fingers
Of lovers gone by
I can still remember
All the things in this world
That can make me cry

I need to go up to see
What's going on outside my life
There are so many faces
Standing in the way
Waiting for a bus to come
And take them home
Won't you please take me
Where-ever I wanna go

I know I shouldn't
Let the fire in my heart
Get inside my head
It's shaking as I try
To find a way
To make me feel alright

But I don't remember
So I turn around and walk away
And live inside my mind
It's slowly shining, miles away
Shining, away...

I know I shouldn't
Let the fire in my heart
Get inside my head
It's shaking as I try
To find a way
To make me feel like shining, miles away
Shining, away...
