

Dub War, Mission

somehow you lost your way you have no understanding from you 2 me an me to you there's just too much demanding the wires they have crossed connections surely faulty we'll never win the national by riding on a donkey to climb the corrupt ladder an reach the greedy star your self indulgent motives have dragged you up this far your boasting in the day your dead before the night success has made you rotten it ain't never made you right ignition
step back to the mission
step back to the real inner vision
step back to the mission
step back to the mission
step back to the mission
check how the vibe
it ah come an it ah come none stop
ego centric super star one day dem ago drop out of the sky back to reality respect nobody
step back to the mission
