

Dudley Saunders, Jesus Didn'T Love Us Enough mickey keep trying to stand to rise but the sheets keep sucking him down he look so surprised they wrap around his head his feet and they whisper

mickey when you're gone the pillow say it don't feel complete his head just keeps bleeding into the gauze

was that a woman
or was it man he can't say what it was on the road and on the beat tripped up in condoms somebody tricking with your treat well, somebody else can want him somebody else can bleed

but it just deepens your resolve
that jesus may have loved us
but he just didn't love us enough and you been bashed six ways to sunday but that's no t the point in my wallet is a joint though I would really rather have ecstasy

that's really my only disease all these boys round here whip their cocks out wave 'em around
yelling please
and you yell back
hey jesus
wants me on my kneeses
but not for though and very definitely not for thee (though I might do it for me)

the ropes around our necks is glowing (for that price they better) and somebody is rapping this crazy rap
from the house of luv
house of glam
something I don't understand

we are huddled in the kiev in black mornings
we are walking on the river
we are huddled
in a huddle
in a room
a sheet
mickey

hey man
is that you

and this payphone keeps ringing while noone passes by stick that needle in your eye you know your heart's already crossed and someone hopes to die

so you stuck your dick inside him and you could feel the rubber break and you watch a seagull flying past your window
while his mouth starts to shake going 'you're always pulling out, man just when it's getting good what's the matter with you' but mickey

just won't explain

it just deepens your resolve
he didn't love us
jesus
jesus didn't love us enough
