

Duels, Instructions

These are instructions
From me to you
See I have a plan
That we must follow through
I will make it so clear That you'll be in no doubt
These are my instructions
Over and out

I know better than anybody
If he's lying or if he's sorry I think we should leave you go get her then give the nod he says he's trying well thank the lord he says that we should leave I think so

Beware the man in the phonebooth with suitcase and shoes rattling loose change in pockets telling his wife the bad news you see this is entertainment he takes a gulp of thick air
these are instructions
for the underprepared (you really should know by now)
