Duncan James, Turn My Head

Cut me once again Feel my body shake This time you said it all trying not to break yeah your words let you down There's no need to blame I danced the fire bright

[CHORUS] You really turned my head With all the crazy messed up things you said And every time you speak you lie so well My heart lies broken at your feet

so let me confess Cos i don't need to hide To solve this mystery That you build on lie Ooh lay my burden down It makes me feel so strange Open up my heart and try and find love again

[Repeat CHORUS]
