Dune, Sea Song

You look different every time You come from the foam - crested brine It's your skin shining softly in the moonlight

Partly fish, partly porpoise Partly baby sperm whale Am I yours? Are you mine to play with?

Joking apart, when you're drunk You're terrific when you're drunk I like you mostly late at night, you're quite alright

But I can't understand the different you in the morning When it's time to play a being human for a while

We smile... we smile... we smile

You'll be different in the spring, I know You're a seasonal beast Like the starfish that drift in with the tide, with the tide

So until your blood runs to meet the next fullmoon Your madness fits in nicely with my own, with my own Your lunacy fits neatly with my own My very own We're not alone
