

Earl Thomas Conley, Chance Of Lovin' You

Like a young & courageous fool
Ready to take on the night
You came dressed to kill all of the boys
& it looks like you've done enough right
You say that love is your only rule
It kinda comes from the heart
When it all comes down to what lovers do
You fall in love & just fall apart

CHORUS:

But that's the chance you take with a lonely heart
That's the price you pay with a lonely heart
That's the game you play when there's nothin' to lose
& I could never refuse the chance of lovin' you

You're beginning to look like you're feelin' content
Just for one night of romance
If it wasn't for love, you'd still be my friend
& still put my heart in your hands

(chorus x2)
(repeat title & fade)
