

Earshot, This World

I never cared much for this world, I just wanna be someone like you but I never said I wouldn't reach deep down to blow them all away chorus:

I can feel it but I don't know where my life's supposed to go I can see it but I'm covered by the fear of the unknown
I could hear it but my head's too sick to listen on my own wanna do it my way

I never never had much of my own, I just wanna feel the sun like you
I never said I wouldn't spread these wings to rise and fly away

(chorus)

will I be here for you? of course I will just remember when you're by yourself I've faced trying times, and I've seen pain I've been through many different walks of life and just because I haven't seen them all doesn't really matter cuz I'm floating

(chorus)
